Local Grand Army Men Are With the

The Veterans Think the Commissioner Has Been Badly Treated.

HIS GOOD CAMPAIGN WORK SET ASIDE

The resignation of Corporal Tanner as Commissioner of Pensions, and which, as intimated by the telegraphic dispatches, has been a forced one, owing to the differences between Secretary Noble and the valiant Corporal, has occasioned considerable comment among the veterans of Pittsburg. Some condemn Corporal Tanner's lack of discretion, while others are outspoken in proclaiming that because he fearlessly supported the rights of old soldiers it was thought he became distasteful to the generation which has risen since the close of the war.

Major Joseph F. Denniston said: "I disagree with some of the 'boys' on this subject as well as some others. I think there was fault on both sides. Commissioner Tanner was, in my opinion, indiscreet. He is one of those men who stir up a hornet's nest for the purpose of hearing the buzzing, when he could just as well step over it and save the trouble. He has not shown the discretion he should have done in conducting the business of the office. He might have gone quietly about it and done all the | his loss. work he has without attracting attention by loud speeches, but his big, warm Irish heart and impulsiveness drew the fire of his enemies before he accomplished what he had

NOT THANSGRESSED THE LAW. "From what I know of him and what he said to me at the Milwaukee Encampment I think he has not in any sense transgressed the law, nor compromised the old soldiers. Still, there is a conservative element in the Grand Army which looks below the 'hurrah,' and believes in quiet, effective work done in a manner not to make it an object of too much public attention and consequent chance for fault-finding.

"With regard to Warner's possible suc-cession to the office, from what I know of him I think he would make an excellent man for the place."

Major A. P. Burchfield—"I think Tanner has been a good deal imposed upon. If the Government or Congress does not wish to live up to the present pension laws, it had better say so or elee make new ones. There are some things that told against Tanner, for instance the rerating of the men in his own office and Senator Manderson, of Nebraska. They were in no particular hurry, and plenty of poor fellows were lying in oldiers' homes or far worse places in absolute need and fully as much entitled to consideration us the men who are in good positions. They did the same duty and needed the increase more. He chose a bad time for considering the other cases, but that is all. I have every confidence, however, in Tan-ner's integrity and good faith, and think he has been badly treated."

HE IS WITH TANNER. Captain Crosby Gray-I'm with Tanner; I can't go back on the corporal. I think some of the people who are considering the pensions ought to take into account the frights the tellows got even before they were wounded, and the consequent wear and tear on their systems. I'm with Tanner every

Out of some 25 others seen the sentiment of the rank and file was said to be entirely with Tanner. One said: "It is a square backdown of the Administration from the position taken before the national election on the platform of either party relative to the soldier. Why Tauner got nearly enough Democratic soldier votes in Indiana to turn the State through his work. The Democratic soldier votes of New York, which were won over for the soldier candidate of President, might have made New York an awkward fight if cast with their influence on the other side. The big dogs may be against Tanner through jealousy, but 'the boys' are with him. He never did or said a thing since he took office that he had not already proclaimed on the stump. It is just a case of before and after election, that is all."

The general view of Warner, as taken by the boys, is that he is a good soldier and an able man, but he is a politician, and has not got the "hurrah," which, so essential in war days, appears to have fallen into disuse in the piping times of peace.

POOR HORSES AT JOHNSTOWN.

Agent O'Brien Will Investigate and Some Arrests May Follow.

Agent Samuel O'Brien, of the Humane Society, will go to Johnstown to-day to investigate the condition of the horses in that unfortunate town. Complaints have been sent to Agent O'Brien representing that many of the horses used there are in a very bad condition. It seems that persons owning poor horses have taken them to Johnstown from all the towns in Western Pennsylvania, and have found ready use for them. Among others, many colored men in Pitts-burg, who were the possessors of what are us-unlly called "crow-baits," took their animals to Johnstown. They are reported to be bony creatures, scarcely fitted even for a super-phosphate factory. If the facts are discovered to be as bad as the reports indicate Agent O'Brien will make a number of

CAPTAIN REES DEAD.

After a Lingering Illness Be Expired Yes terday-He Was an Old Citizen and Prominent in the Iron Business. Captain James Rees died at his home in the East End yesterday morning. His death was not unexpected, but it was re-

Captain James Rees, The Captain was born in Wales December 25, 1820, and was 69 years old when he died. When he was 7 years old he came to America, and lived in Pittsburg most of his life. He leaves a large family to mourn

James Rees was one of Pittsburg's prominent citizens. He came to Pittsburg and entered into partnership with Henry Carter in the spring of 1850. Mr. Rees has been closely identified with Pittsburg's rise and progress. His first business venture with Mr. Carter was in the nut and bolt trade. In 1856 he disposed of his interest in this foundry, and associated himself with Charles Knapp, of the Fort Pitt foundry. The firm carried on their business together until the fall of 1857, when J. W. Butler entered into partnership with them, and the firm was known as Knapp, Carter & Co. In later years Mr. Rees separated himself from the nut and bolt trade, and opened an engine shop, known as the "Duquesne Engine Works," on Fourth street and Duquesne way.

One of the most conspicuous achievements of Mr. Rees was the construction of the first steel-plate steamboat in the United States. This vessel was the Francesco Montoya, and was built in 1878 for the Magdalena Steam Navigation Company, of South America. The boat was 150 feet long, 30 feet beam and 3 feet in the hold. It was supposed that the vessel would be a failure because it was made of steel plates. A very prevalent opinion existed at the time that the steel being so hard would snap if a vessel touched a suag or a rock. Mr. Rees had unflinching confidence that the steel would stand better than iron. His con-fidence has been fully sustained.

The firm also built, in 1879, the Victoria, 157 feet long; Robert Calisto, 110 feet long, and the Comuta, 130 feet long.

These boats were all shipped to their destinations in pieces. A couple of skilled men always went to superintend their reconstruc-

In social life Mr. Rees was well and favorably known; he numbered among his friends the leading citizens of both cities. His death will be mourned by an extensive circle of acquaintances.

Nearly every steamboat in the harbor had its flag rigged at half mast yesterday in respect to the dead engine builder. Mr. Rees was well known by rivermen, he having been the constructor of the motive machinery for many of the Ohio river vessels.

Do you want a fine piano? If you do the Everett Club or Co-operative System offers the following inducements, if you wish to pay cash. By becoming a member you will save $75 in the price of the piano and get it at once. If you cannot spare the cash you can get your piano any time, on pay-ments of $25 cash and $2 50 per week, no interest; and still save $75 in the price. If you cannot pay so fast, by waiting until your number is drawn you will get your piano on payments of $1 per week, no inter-est, and save $75 in the regular price to our retail trade. Think of this! Our club is omposed of 350 members, each paying $1 per week. Thus you see the members are buying for cash, and one piano is delivered to the member whose number is drawn each week, until all are supplied, or, if one-half of the members take their pianos and pay $2 50 per week, we deliver twice the num-ber, and get double the amount of cash each ber, and get double the annual week, and it leaves only one-half the number to be drawn on the $1 weekly payments.

It is a simple business problem. We are It is a simple business problem. We are saving our members the difference in price by contracting for 350 pianos at one time, and on a cash basis. We have now enough members to guarantee the success of this plan, and have decided to begin delivering the pianos on Saturday, September 21. Do not wait, but apply for membership at once. Call and see the piano, or send for circular.

ADMITTING SCHOOL CHILDREN FREE

The famous model of the City of Paris, that cost $10,000, will be placed on exhibition in the Exposition to-day. The Inman Line prize the model very highly, and they have consigned it to the care of Captain J. J. McCormick, the steamship agent. In fact it was through the efforts of the genial Captain that the company consented to place it on exhibition. The model is 13 feet long and made proportionately, so that it is a perfect image of the fastest boat on the

The tide in Exposition affairs is certainly ooking toward success, as the steady stream of humanity that poured through the gates yesterday goes to show. There was a great number of excursionists present, and on the whole the entire attendance was made up of the best looking and apparently most wellto-do and intelligent people of the communities from which they came.

The mechanic was there yesterday, with a keen eye upon exhibits in Machinery Hall, that conveyed to him a hint from which the world of invention may reap some benefit. Then there was the fashionable woman and the working girl; the man of business and A quiet little inquiry has been going on ately in Exposition affairs, and in a talk with Manager Johnston yesterday, the result of this inquiry was learned.

"The management," said he, "have ascertained the names of parties who are known to have transferred their season books for the use of others. Now this is a direct violation of the conditions upon which these books have been issued. The names of the people are known to us. All season book tickets must be signed by the parties to whom they were issued, and they will not be honored at the door unless they are so THE ORDER IS PEREMPTORY.

"Holders will please take notice that this order is peremptory, and they will be re-fused admission unless they are signed by the names of the parties to whom they are issued. If this is not done orders are given that the books be taken up and admission refused. It seems to be the aim of some par-ties to beat the show if possible, and the management is becoming very tired of it. A BEGGARLY CONTRIBUTION. lengelets in Five States Give $100

Help Brethren at Johnstown. The fact that four druggists in Johnstown were practically ruined by the flood, led to the issuance of an appeal to the retail drug trade of the country by John W. Miller, of Allegheny, President of the State Pharmaceutical Association, and E. J. McElwee, a prominent member of the National Pharmaceutical body.

On the 27th of July 2,000 postal cards were sent out to the retail druggists of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland. On the 12th of August 1,000 more cards were dispatched to all quarters. The cards hore a modest request for contributions of any amount from 50 cents up, and Messrs. Miller and McElwee hoped to realize at least $1,000 for the stricken Johnstonians. The books were closed yesterday, and the contribution, after paying necessary ex-penses, was sent in equal amounts to the four Johnstown druggists. Mr. Miller showed the list of contributors to a reporter last evening. It is certainly astounding that such an amount should have been co tributed. The sum total is just $174 79. Penusylvania sent $83 80; Maryland, $75 98; Ohio, $13 01; Illinois, $1, and Kansas, $1. There was just $100 realized after expenses were paid.

A Lancaster man wrote three weeks ago to find out how the fund was progressing. He was informed, and afterward sent the following laconic letter:

Mr. John W. Miller:

I'm shocked. Upon inquiry I find that I am shocked $10 worth. Inclosed please find check.

Oysterman's Anocdote. This week sees the annual commenceme of the oyster season in full blast. Although the old saying is that the first "r" mont finds the luscious bivalve an edible rticle, there are very many consumers who prefer to wait till the middle of September before they rticulate to the restaurant waiter, "Oysters on the half shell," or any other

Advertisements for oyster openers indicate that the demand for the unrivaled mollusk has now become general. The oyster opener sui generis is almost as odd a fish as those he opens. Where he spends the off months is always a mystery, even to his intimates. But just at the time he is wanted to play the Paul Pry act on the festive bivalve shell he appears on the scene with the dirty white apron and the usual blunt knife.

It seems remarkable, when one notes the skill required to place the knife at the oyster's weakest point—for oysters, like Achilles, have a vulnerable part—and open the shell with a quick jerk without allowing any dirt to fall on the oyster, that oyster-openers receive only $12 to $15 per week, with the daily hours of 11 A. M. to 11 P. M., sometimes later. There is an extra recomplete the same of t sometimes later. An oysterman, who is starting a new oys ter-bay in the center of the city, said yeste day: "An oyster-opener of good judgment can be avery valuable man to his employer. All the shell oysters pass through his hands, and as he opens each oyster he is the sole judge of its fitness for service upon the half shelf. When an oyster is too small or is injured in opening, it is washed and thrown into the 'stew' bowl. Concerning stews, they are nearly always composed of 'tub oysters,' this term meaning that the ready for use. 'shell oysters.' Very few stews are made o

I know one restaurateur in New York who made a fortune by serving up 'tub' oysters in artfully prepared style on shells fresh-ened up for each order, and charging the customary half-shell price. He has retired now from business, but relates gleefully how for several seasons a certain Wall street millionaire was served with the same shells over and over. The thing became so common that when the millionaire hove it sight at lunchtime the order went forth 'Bring Mr. Squeezem's shells.' There are tricks in all trades, you know."

Holland then offered the dedicatory prayer, and after a hymn by the choir the box was placed in position and the corner stone, which bears the figure
